

Prior to receiving my 6-month laser hair removal treatment, the skin around my bikini line was bumpy, red, itchy, and quite irritable. Every time I would shave this area, I would receive ingrown hairs and consequent dark spots.

However, after my 6-month treatment, I noticed great disparity in the condition of my skin before being treated. After the first month of treatment, my hair began to fall out as well as become thinner which cultivated an easier shaving process. After the final months of treatment, the easier the area was able to be shaved, I began to notice the lack of ingrown hairs, and thus the lack of dark spots, which made for a smoother bikini line area.

I would definitely recommend SKin of All Color Dermatology, especially when looking for a physician, like Dr. Onumah, who will provide you with your desired results.

Sincerely,

DSP
